

India is world's largest arms importer

TRACKING GLOBAL ARMS PURCHASES

Over the last five years, India has imported more weapons than any other country

Source: Stockholm International Peace Research Institute

Though the deterrence stability exists between the belligerent neighbours, yet New Delhi's weapon shopping spree and missile defence systems imports are perilous for existing strategic stability in the subcontinent.